

Well today has been a day. not everyhting has gone as i would like to but oh well. Crap happens and you know there is no law that say's i have to like it so it is what it is.

I happy again i never though i would be but i am. I'm falling in love it somehting i siad i'd never do again but i have . It seems like everything is moivng in slowmotion and of ocourse i want it all now. I'm patient with some hting but other's i tend to get wound tight. my tmeper has been sharp latley so i'm doing some meditiaion and such to clear my self of negative engery. I tend to not see everyhting and act on impulse but hey it the wonder that's me. I can addmit i'm worng but i hate it when i'm told my oppion is meaningless. I think i shall feel alot better after my meditation it long over due. I think i need a vaction and a snuggle with my teddy bear
