

I have given up on trying to find my old chapters for my fic so I'm gonna have to re-write them. That stinks since i was really proud of them.

My big thing was to try and keep the established characters from the series to a limited part. All I have so far is Gloval in the story.

I'll post them as I get them up. They are not as good as Atlantech to be sure LOL. But if anyone likes it at all that would be enough for me :)
